

W. P. WALTON.

COMMENTING on the Louisville Commercial's sensational promulgation of the decision of Gov. W. O. Bradley to locate in New York City for the practice of his profession, Mr. Watterson refuted the statement that great men soon go to the wall and are heard of no more in the great city, said to swallow up statesmen and scholars, lawyers and doctors, big men and little without mercy, and taken occasion to pay a well-merited compliment to Gov. Bradley, of whose professional success in New York, he has no doubt. Says the Commercial: "Gov. Bradley is a most eloquent speaker. He is a tireless, adroit jury lawyer. The bar of New York is poor in both and when the ex-governor goes there, he will find a place ready to his hand and warm to receive him. He is not a man of evil spirit, who loves fighting for fighting's sake and who will do him to the wall both the way and the return for expansion, who plenty had space and length of days, and immunity from the wear and tear of ragged politics, blighting him in kind and in degree, and cocking him to poison at a thousand yards." Kentucky has sent many representatives to the great metropolis, and rarely one who did not succeed. We refuse to permit Gov. Bradley to go unaccompanied by the confident belief that he will make his mark and the ex-governor our hearty good wishes. "The Commercial," which holds the ex-governor in high esteem and which has refused to speak evil of a friend who has shown himself to be one, takes pleasure in endorsing the above and giving expression to its high appreciation of his ability and attainments. He is a partisan and a bitter one, but he is a man for a that and a that, and we do not hesitate to say so, even at the risk of being misunderstood and perhaps maligned by those who misinterpret our fondness for Gov. Bradley into political support. For the benefit of those who may say as our old black mammy used to say to us: "Yes, I love you child, but I hate your ways." We like Gov. Bradley personally, but despise his politics and we may add can hold him a hapd in partisanship.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, which has piped for Taylor and the assassin band in season and out ad nauseam, is at last forced to admit the yellow streak in the usurper from the county of Butler. It thinks that his alleged lack of determination to stay in Indiana till the supreme court decides, is unworthy of "the great and good man," who has been persecuted beyond measure for righteousness sake. It advises him to go home and stay there till the court decides against him and then surrender the office with "the same dignity of demeanor and graceful acquiescence to existing law that has marked his entire conduct." This is good advice, but advice is easier to be given than taken. The Ohio editor seems to forget that "conscience does not make a man of us all" and Taylor properly turned one of guilt, naturally prefer to bear the life that may be exacted from Indianapolis, than to fly to others that may await him in Frankfort. Taylor may be even meaner than his enemies claim that he is, but he is possessed of a certain kind of shrewdness and sharpness that keeps him from being aptly described by Sut Lovinwood's famous remark, and will decline any advice which is liable to land him in the battle.

Taylor says, "Justice and others will be finally let at liberty. This prediction is doubly made with the hope that the supreme court will decide for him and then he will do the rest with his little pardon." The fugitive is alleged to have further said that the crowd in jail got not the ones they want in Kentucky, "I am the man they are after." This is only half true, the first statement being as false as the latter is correct. They do want Taylor and will continue to do so until he shows before a court of competent jurisdiction that the incriminating chain of circumstances that he wove around himself and the sworn testimony of alleged accomplices, are the honest figments of imagination. If Taylor is innocent it is easy enough for him to prove it and when he does on paper will be quicker to acknowledge its mistake than this. In the meantime, he must excuse us and others for thinking that he is guilty as charged for the worst victim of circumstance that ever happened.

The democrats who supported Gov. Taylor were democrats. They really represent the democratic tenets, principles and policies and the party, as Billy Beckwithridge in his Lexington Herald, just so and just the same that Judas Iscariot represented the principles and policies of the christian apostles. The so-called democrat who voted for Taylor is a Benedict Arnold on a smaller scale and is no more worthy therefore to be called a democrat than the devil was to dispense holy water. Go to, colonel, you have no right to speak for democrats; shiny over to your side with the republicans, where you belong.

We are getting a little dubious with reference to the supreme court. If it be as jurisdiction it could have said it had been done with it, and the delay in making it trying to strain a point to make it for the republicans, who were a majority of the court. The body was a very partisan body before and DEMOCRATS of the 8th district will please remember that Lincoln county has an aspirant for the honor of representing the district at the National convention at Kansas City in the person of Hon. Harvey Helm, a democrat who can always be depended on and who in the last campaign did valiant service for our splendid ticket. Help us really his ambition and you will have reason to be proud of it.

As old Senator Chisholm, of Texas, remarked about the United States, so do we about the INTERIOR JOURNAL: "She done expanded."

"The town is full of enthusiastic republicans. They are truly the salt of the earth."—London Kentuckian. The woodchuck's remark, or any other kind of remark is in order. Even "cussin" is in order.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, MAY 18, 8:30 A. M.—The republicans selected Bradley and Taylor by acclamation and Denny and a colored brother, W. A. Gaines, for delegates at large after an acrimonious contest. Louisville Negro, Albert White, accuses Boreing of treachery. The resolutions instruct for McKinley, and Bradley for vice president, denounce Goebel law and make great to do about "Sinful Liberty." There was not a word in denunciation of Goebel's murder.

A government detective states that the Neely Printing Co., of Muncie, Ind., printed and sent to C. W. F. Neely at Havana, two million dollars worth of bogus stamps for distribution among Cuban officers.

Chairman A. W. Young has called the democratic executive committee to meet at Frankfort, May 24, to issue a convention call.

LOUISVILLE, May 17.—The republican convention, which assembled in the Auditorium at 2:40, started out with a row, the Sapp and Baker forces of Louisville getting in a rumble in which the tie was passed, but no blows struck. The convention organized by electing Capt. H. S. Irwin temporary chairman. Just as the person had finished praying, Taylor, his wife and even children died down the aisle and were lustily cheered. Gov. Bradley and Gen. Collier received an ovation. Taylor made a speech and talked much about liberty, but made no reference to the crime of which he is accused. Gov. Bradley was also called on to speak.

The resolutions indorse the National administration and point to the prosperity enjoyed by the nation under republican rule and calls for a modification of the civil service rules to be enacted; the Goebel law is denounced and its repeal demanded; the parson acts of the last Legislature are condemned; the course of Taylor is commended; the steal of State offices is deplored; the independent democrats are thanked for their aid in recent campaign; the actions of Senator Deboe in the United States Senate are applauded; the fight made by ex-Gov. Bradley and his loyal conferees in behalf of the State administration, is approved.

Taylor's soldiers were about to start a riot with the Frankfort police, over the arrest of a drunken comrade, when Gen. D. H. Collier rushed upon the scene and ordered the Taylorites into camp. The police then escorted the fellow to the work-house, where a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct was registered against him.

The republican county conventions of the State continue to denounce the officers of the law in their efforts to bring to justice the assassins of Gov. Goebel, but not one of these conventions has ever condemned the murder.—Owensboro Messenger.

A sensational pamphlet issued in Mailla by the Jesuits fiercely attacks American institutions, calls civil marriage concubinage, condemns free thought and a free press and declares that the authority of the church is superior to civil authority.

In remitting for a year's subscription, R. M. Newland, writing from Dallas, Texas, says: Its gallant stand for law and order and the exposure of the gull, as opposed to force and anarchy and the vindication of Taylor and his mob, should commend the I. J. to the better element of people, regardless of any personal feeling or political affiliation. The people here are glad to see the coils of an outraged law gradually tightening around some of the defendants accused of the foulest crime of assassination in the history of the State. It would indeed be singular if such an assassination as that of Gov. Goebel, committed in broad daylight, upon the ground of a State Capital, should remain such a mystery that its perpetrators could for any considerable time go unwhipped of justice. I hope, with a general sentiment here, to read ere long of a just retribution visited upon every one in any way connected with the removal.

SUICIDE.—A dispatch from Cincinnati says Dr. Scott B. Howard, health officer of St. Bernard, committed suicide by shooting himself while insane. He was a brother of Miss Gertrude Howard, of Ghent, and was to have been married in a few months to Miss Davidson, of Bellevue, Ky.

HOMES.—After a long illness of consumption, Mr. Bryant Y. Hobbs died yesterday, aged about 45. He married a sister of Mr. Perry White and also six children, one a few months old, survive. Mr. Hobbs was a member of the Christian church and was highly thought of by his neighbors.

IT was a heavy job to put up our big press, requiring a week's work of an expert and several assistants, but it is up at last and this issue is printed on it. It was too heavy to bring upstairs, so it was set up on the ground floor, where our patrons can call and see it work and get their papers hot from the press with the latest telegraphic and local news.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT.—The Warren Grigsby Chapter U. D. C. will give an "Inch Party" at the Veranda Hotel, Wednesday, May 24 from 7 to 10 p. m.

Just one foot, two feet, three feet, four: You must measure at the door.

And for each foot you measure tall, Just three cents in the sack let fall.

How few do "end" in even feet. So all the inches you must meet.

And thus when even feet you lack, Two cents an inch drop in the sack.

The proceeds are to be used in marking the grave of Lieut. Col. Whaley, a gallant Confederate from Georgia, who was mortally wounded on the retreat after the battle of Perryville and whose remains are interred in Buffalo Cemetery. All are cordially invited and Confederates from this and adjoining counties are urged to attend. Miss Kate Alcorn, Secretary. The other officers are: Mrs. J. W. Alcorn, President; Mrs. Kate P. Miller, Vice-President; Mrs. W. A. Tribble, Treasurer and Mrs. Steele Bailey, Historian.

The ladies are engaged in a most worthy enterprise and it is hoped that the entertainment which they have arranged will be liberally patronized. Be sure to go and help the cause and at the same time enjoy a pleasant evening.

GOOD.—On being chosen to preside over the republican convention at Bowling Green, Thomas M. Owsley, says the Times, "made a lengthy speech accepting the position, and in closing announced from this time on he would retire from active participation in politics." This is a very sensible determination. There is little money in politics to honest men and a great many more heartaches than pleasures. Belonging to a long line of tried and true democrats, this young man turned his back on them all and became a republican. At that time although there was some decency in the party, his friends wept over his course and refused to be comforted. Since the republican party has become the party of assassination or the apologists for assassins, this young man has doubtless grown sick of his company, and but for a foolish pride of opinion and the dislike of being called a turncoat would do the prodigious act and return to the house of his father, to have a ring put on his finger and the fastest calf killed for his reception.

In remitting for a year's subscription, R. M. Newland, writing from Dallas, Texas, says: Its gallant stand for law and order and the exposure of the gull, as opposed to force and anarchy and the vindication of Taylor and his mob, should commend the I. J. to the better element of people, regardless of any personal feeling or political affiliation. The people here are glad to see the coils of an outraged law gradually tightening around some of the defendants accused of the foulest crime of assassination in the history of the State. It would indeed be singular if such an assassination as that of Gov. Goebel, committed in broad daylight, upon the ground of a State Capital, should remain such a mystery that its perpetrators could for any considerable time go unwhipped of justice. I hope, with a general sentiment here, to read ere long of a just retribution visited upon every one in any way connected with the removal.
